

TALKS FOR GROWING CHRISTIANS TRANSCRIPT

John 11:45-57: The Reaction to the Raising of Lazarus from the Dead

"Then many of the Jews who had come to Mary, and had seen the things Jesus did, believed in Him. ⁴⁶ But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them the things Jesus did. ⁴⁷ Then the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council and said, "What shall we do? For this Man works many signs. ⁴⁸ If we let Him alone like this, everyone will believe in Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation."

⁴⁹ And one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, "You know nothing at all, ⁵⁰ nor do you consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and not that the whole nation should perish." ⁵¹ Now this he did not say on his own authority; but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation, ⁵² and not for that nation only, but also that He would gather together in one the children of God who were scattered abroad.

⁵³ Then, from that day on, they plotted to put Him to death. ⁵⁴ Therefore Jesus no longer walked openly among the Jews, but went from there into the country near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and there remained with His disciples.

⁵⁵ And the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went from the country up to Jerusalem before the Passover, to purify themselves. ⁵⁶ Then they sought Jesus, and spoke among themselves as they stood in the temple, "What do you think—that He will not come to the feast?" ⁵⁷ Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a command, that if anyone knew where He was, he should report it, that they might seize Him."

Background Notes

The council gathered by the chief priests and Pharisees was the Sanhedrin, the ruling body of the Jews and the high court of the Jews at that time. The Sanhedrin consisted of 71 members, including the high priest who was the presiding member. The high priest at this time was Caiaphas; the Romans had removed his father-in-law Annas and put Caiaphas into the office of high priest. We will read more about Caiaphas when we come to the trial of our Lord in John 18. By the way, the tomb of Caiaphas and his family was recently discovered in Jerusalem. Again, archeology confirms the historical accuracy of the Bible!

In verses 47-48 the members of the Sanhedrin said, "What shall we do? For this Man works many signs. ⁴⁸ If we let Him alone like this, everyone will believe in Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation." Notice that they didn't deny the miracles of Jesus Christ. They admitted that He was doing miracles – "many signs." To this day, Orthodox Judaism doesn't deny that Jesus of Nazareth did miracles, but they have always attributed His power to a different source than the power of God. In early Jewish literature, early Rabbinic literature (the Talmud, for example) we can read about the miracles of Jesus of Nazareth. The miracles are not denied, but the rabbis attribute the power to a demonic source rather than God. They will not accept Jesus as Messiah, but they don't deny the miracles.

Isn't it ironic that the very thing the Sanhedrin feared -- that the Romans would come and take away their Temple and nation if they followed Jesus Christ -- is exactly what took place when they rejected Him? In 70AD the Roman armies under Titus invaded the land, destroyed the Temple and removed the nation.

The Lord left and went to stay in a town called Ephraim. We're not sure exactly where Ephraim was located, but there is a good possibility that it was near Bethel, about 15 miles north of Jerusalem.

Doctrinal / Teaching Points

1. The person of Christ and the work of Christ divide people.

Look at verses 45-46 once again: "Then many of the Jews who had come to Mary, and had seen the things Jesus did, believed in Him. ⁴⁶ But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them the things Jesus did." Can you believe it? What does it take to convince a person that Jesus is who He said He is -- the Son of God? They had a dead man, dead for four days, body already in decay, and the Lord raised them to life! But you see, people don't necessarily believe, even if they see a miracle from God.

Do you remember the rich man in Luke 16? "The rich man also died and was buried. ²³ And being in torments in Hades, he lifted up his eyes and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom." He wanted someone to return from the dead to preach to his brothers who were still alive, so they wouldn't have to suffer the torment in Hades. What was he told? He was told that if his brothers would not believe Moses and the prophets (in other words, if they would not believe the Scriptures), they would not believe even if someone were to rise from the dead!

The point is, belief is a matter of the will. When the claims and deeds of Christ are presented, people either accept or reject on the basis of their own will. The person of Christ and the work of Christ divide people. I am sure you have heard this expression before, "A person convinced against his will, is of the same opinion still." You see, it is the matter of the will.

Certainly the Spirit of God is involved, operating on that will to bring a person to faith. Now when I say "will," I don't mean human willpower. Human willpower alone will not bring a person to faith. The Spirit of God must be working on a person's will to bring them to faith in Christ. What we are emphasizing here, however, is that people are not going to believe just because they see miracles from God. There must be a changing of the will!

Right now you are hearing about the person and the work of Christ. You must either accept and become a believer, or reject and remain an unbeliever. There is no middle ground; there is no neutral ground. The person of Christ and the work of Christ divide people.

2. The death of Christ was substitutionary.

In verse 50 we read that Caiaphas said, "You know nothing at all, nor do you consider that it is expedient for us that one man should die for the people, and not that the whole nation should perish." Verse 51 tells us that this was a true prophecy, predicting the substitutionary nature of the death of Christ. "Now this he did not say on his own authority; but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation, and not for that nation only, but also that He would gather together in one the children of God who were scattered abroad"(v51-52). Notice that this substitutionary atonement was not just for those of the nation of Israel who would believe, but for believers around the world: "and not for that nation only, but also that He would gather together in one the children of God who were scattered abroad."

Now Caiaphas was not a believer, by any stretch of the imagination! From his perspective, Christ's death was strictly political expediency. However, God overruled in his statement, and it became a prophecy of the substitutionary death of Christ.

This is similar to the account of Balaam in the Old Testament. Balaam was a false prophet, a diviner, but God overruled Balaam's oracle and He uttered a true Messianic prophecy in Numbers 24:17: "I see Him, but not now; I behold Him, but not near; a Star shall come out of Jacob; a Scepter shall rise out of Israel, and batter the brow of Moab, and destroy all the sons of tumult."

Numbers 24:17 was a Messianic prophecy uttered by Balaam – a false prophet -- a diviner! We have a similar situation here: Caiaphas was not a believer, but because he was the high priest, God overruled his statement and it became a prophecy predicting the substitutionary nature of the death of Christ!

Do you understand that the death of Christ was "substitutionary"? The Lord Jesus didn't die for "a good cause" -- He died as our substitute! On the cross He suffered the penalty of our sins, as our Substitute. Commit your life to Christ as the one who died as your substitute, and you will become a Christian. The death of Christ was substitutionary.

Practical Applications

1. Don't make decisions like Caiaphas!

Caiaphas didn't weigh the evidence to see what was true. No, he made his decision based on political expediency. What was best for him, politically? What was best for his career? Sadly, he was wrong – terribly wrong!

How do we make decisions? Like Caiaphas, even Christians can make wrong decisions based on financial, political or social expediency. When we make decisions do we ask, "What's in it for me?" or "How will this decision benefit me?" From the world's perspective, that is the wise way to make decisions. The expedient way is to look out for the interest of "#1"!

This is the wrong way to make decisions. Christians have lost their children to the world, for example, or lost their marriages, because they made decisions based on what looked beneficial or expedient for their careers. Don't assume a lucrative job offer is God's will! College students -- don't assume that an athletic scholarship is God's will. It may be, but why do we assume that a great job offer or a great athletic scholarship must surely be God's will? It may be – but it may not be!

Don't make decisions as Caiaphas made decisions, based on what seems expedient or beneficial from this world's standpoint. Pray through every decision!

Make sure that decision is in line with God's will. It may look expedient, but that may be the world's way of looking at it. It may not be the right decision. Don't make decisions like Caiaphas!

2. Don't throw away your common sense!

In verse 53 we read "Then, from that day on, they plotted to put Him to death." So what did the Lord Jesus do at that point? As the perfect Man, and certainly the model that we are to follow, He used His common sense and got away from the danger zone. It was not yet His time to go to the Cross. "Therefore Jesus no longer walked openly among the Jews, but went from there into the country near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and there remained with His disciples"(v54). He picked Ephraim, a town of the edge of the wilderness, where He could escape if He need be. Don't throw away your common sense!

This is certainly a balancing principle to the previous practical application about making decisions like Caiaphas. Using common sense is not a loss of courage or lack of faith! Don't throw away your common sense!

Not too long ago, I was talking with a young foreign missionary who was purposing to take his family into a dangerous area. My counsel to him was, "Wait a minute -- are you sure this is God's will? Taking your young family into a dangerous area is not God's normal way of operation for families. Normally, God's method of operation is that you, as a Christian husband and father, should be concerned about the safety and welfare of your family. Continue to pray about this matter, and be sure that this decision is in the will of God."

We are to use our God-given common sense. Don't throw away your common sense!
